The Purpose of College Education

Nowadays, with the policy of college enrollment expansion in China, higher education is no longer the privilege only enjoyed by minorities. The past decade has witnessed a steady increase in the percentage of people owning college diploma, from 8.3% to 23.5%.

However, every coin has two sides. Every year so many graduates pour into the employment market and greatly intensify the competition in job market. Plenty of them remain unemployed. Consequently, the concept of “uselessness of study” prevails among the people who adopt negative attitude toward higher education and believe it futile to pursue a degree.

As far as I am concerned, the purpose of university education is not only to equip students with knowledge and professional skills, but to cultivate qualified citizens to deal with various challenges with full developed character and talent. Therefore, as college students, we should value the learning opportunity to perfect ourselves for the future competition.

Ritual Sense

During recent years, it is very common for young people to pursue life's ritual sense around us, and it's playing an important role in our day-to-day life. Whereas what is the true ritual sense? Many people probably consider it is a life style that makes life more colorful.

As a matter of fact, ritual sense is what makes a day different from other days, a moment different from other moments. It is said that ritual sense is what can make our life different everyday. Although all people wonder a ritual sense life, eventually not all achieve their goal, to the contrary, they live a tough life because of misunderstanding.

In my opinion, if you want to pursue a meaning ritual sense life, in first place, you need have definite target that is to say no aimless. Then add to some colorful elements in life, only in this way, your ritual sense is not a handsome look.

Health or Wealth ?

Which is more important, wealth or health? Different people have different opinions.

Some people prefer wealth, holding that money can not bring everything, but without it, one can do nothing. In order to get more money, they can do anything. However, other people regard health as more important. Once health is lost, it is no use having a lot of money.

As far as I am concerned, I love wealth, but I value health more. Everybody wants to live a happy life. So they try their best to earn money which they can ensure they lead a comfortable life, but if happiness and comfort are achieved at the cost of their health, how can they be happy without health, and money becomes meaningless. In my opinion, no one agrees that a wealthy person without good health can be happy. So, just do our best and keep fit.

The Advantages And Disadvantages of Mobile Phones

Generally speaking, it is widely believed that there are several positive aspects as follows about students' using mobile phones at school. Firstly, with a mobile phone in hand, a student can get in touch with parents conveniently. Secondly, mobile phones can sometimes be used as a dictionary if it is connected with the Internet, which is beneficial to students' English learning.

However, its advantages are also obvious. To start with, getting in touch with friends as well as parents by the phone too frequently will surely have a bad effect on students' study. What's worse, it is common for students to get addicted to mobile phone games.

In my opinion, from the comparison between these advantages and disadvantages, we should make a reasonable balance between our working time and playing time. And we will reap the benefits mobile phones bringing to us.

Green Consumption

The conception of green consumption has gradually become popular in China. More and more green foods are making their appearance on the market and more and more people are becoming conscious of environmental protection.

However, there still exist quite a few difficulties in the further promotion of green consumption. On the one hand, many people are still not quite clear of the advantages of green foods. On the other hand, due to high profits, many fake green foods are found in the market. Moreover, many consumers don't want to pay extra money for green foods.

There may be several ways to solve these problems. Firstly, the government should supervise the good quality strictly to protect consumers' interests. Secondly, the conception of green consumption should be further promoted and emphasized. Thirdly, the government should work together with manufacturers to make the price more reasonable.

Waste Sorting

Nowadays, there are many cities in China that have put waste sorting into practice, such as Beijing, Shanghai and so on. People are supposed to throw their household waste kitchen refuse, abandoned plastics and papers, etc. into the different public containers, according to the detailed standard of classification.

This, obviously, will make the best use of stuff that can be recycled or reused, such as plastics and papers, and save money and energy. What's more, it can prevent the land from being polluted by unnecessary landfills, which will worsen the shortage of land. Besides, waste sorting will reduce the risk that dispose of the recyclable waste like plastics by burning will give off toxic smoke which seriously pollutes the air.

As far as I am concerned, waste sorting should be advocated, no matter from the perspective of economy or protecting the environment. Accordingly, the cost of running landfills and treating waste will be brought down greatly. Therefore, economically and environmentally, it is of great significance to call for waste sorting.

Compare with Others

Now people in significant numbers are beginning to compare themselves with others. They harbor the idea that comparison can not only make them realize the differences between them and others, but also make them strive. They retreat surpassing others as success.

Opinions vary from person to person. Some people take the attitude that comparing ourselves with others does have the passive effects to our life. On the one hand, if you compare yourself with the one who is weaker than you, you will be so satisfied with the current situation that you will lose the ambition. On the other hand, compared with the ones stronger than you, you can not find the confidence.

All in all, every coin has two sides. So we should not compare us with others blindly. But, we can compare ourselves with ourselves. Only in this way, can we find out our advantages and weaknesses.

Tobacco Should be Banned

Nowadays, smoking in public could found everywhere in our daily life. Some researches show that cancers are getting more and more serious and its most important causes is smoking. Based on this point, we should say smoking is dangerous to human beings, even we can say stop smoking is very necessary to reduce the rate of cancer.

In my opinion, to reduce smoking is completely necessary, after all health is the most important in our life. If we cannot control ourselves on this, when people are ill, how could they enjoy the wealth and properties then? So, to improve our controlling about smoking and reducing smoking is absolutely necessary.

About Travel

Nowadays, travel is becoming more and more popular in our life. How to treat it in a right way? Here are my opinions.

There is no doubt that traveling is a good way to relax yourself. When you feel tired after working for a long time, you can go traveling to experience the beauty of nature. You can also breathe the fresh air and make friends with people who come from different places.

But on the other hand, it also has some disadvantages. For example, weather changes suddenly, sometimes you may be wetted in the heavy rain or you may lose the way and so on.

On the whole, I think travel is a good thing. But we should get ready for everything when we want to travel. So we can have a good experience.

A Low-carbon Life

With the development and progress of our society, people are living in a healthier, more natural and much safer ways. It is called “low-carbon life” (低碳生活). As modern teenagers, there are many things we can do.

We'd better walk or ride to school. It can help save energy and clean the air. We should also save paper. For example, we can use both sides of the paper, or we can give our textbooks to the next grade students. Besides, try to get up and go to bed early. We should use sunlight as much as possible.

I always tell my friends to take cloth bags instead of plastic ones while shopping. Before leaving the classroom, I often turn off the lights.

I believe that if people all live a low-carbon life, our earth will become better!
